Committee Reports

Fundraising

- Auction planning taking off – contract signed and we're locked in with Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts – May 18, 5:30-8:30
 - Committee active
- Committee just met last Thursday – working on a Save The Date
- George mentioned an app, BidPal, that allows you to put up items online two weeks or so early, allowing people who can't attend the auction in person to browse and still bid on things through the app

- Board mentioned other apps – perhaps worth investigating as a way to alert and engage people- figure out overhead
 - Bidding For Good
 - Bid Pal
 - ACTION ITEMS George will look more into the bidding apps
- Sara S. working with vendors to see what she can get in donations
- ACTION ITEMS (ongoing from November): Delegate to Fundraising Committee
 - The Board recommends face-to-face meeting with stakeholders at Friends Center to discuss disparity between benefits provided by FCCC and contributions from our partners
 - Fundraising Committee will work with Raechel to inventory past fundraising appeals – in process
 - Think about how we might come under the care of a meeting – Philadelphia Central Meeting would be the most logical
 - Greg sent an email to Bruce Pritchard to start discussing this – what it would mean, what advantages etc., and waiting for response – in process

Finance

- Written report sent via email
- We're right where we should be in the year – for all big ticket items, we're within 3% of where we should be.
- We're at 99% of our revenue – pretty good considering that in first couple months we're not at full capacity
- On expense side, we're at 99% of capacity, right on track
- In line with where we should be with 401Ks
 - We have 17 participants on our staff (about half)
- Accountant
 - Ryan reached out to our accountant – Susan takes care of most stuff – keeps cost down and so accountant doesn't do much in advice
 - He is concerned that if the city were to look closely at our bank accounts that they would question whether or not we are a non-profit
 - Mitigate risk by including in our Minutes clear discussion of what we're doing with that money
 - Ryan thinks worth thinking about using our accountant more in an advisory capacity – consider having annual or semi-annual review
 - ACTION ITEM: Ryan will discuss with Susan possibility of starting an annual review – think about what she does with other clients
 - Talked with accountant about what to do with our nest egg (not getting more than 1-1.5% return on that, can do more) – Ryan looking into some contacts he suggested to start thinking about how to better leverage that nest egg

Trustee

- No report
- ACTION ITEM: Draft a letter to put in cubbies to get parents involved – solicit areas of expertise that would be helpful: fundraising, finance,
 - Parent energy – community building – acknowledge
